Field Trips

Chapel Hill Public Library

The Chapel Hill Public Library staff led a lesson about the woodlife and beds of water that surround the library. The campers also participated in a plant relief activity.

AD Clark Pool

E3 Campers went to A.D. Clark Pool which is first local pool that allowed black people to swim during the era of segregation.

Field Trips

Pauli Murray Social Justice Center

E3 Camp toured the Pauli Murray Social Justice Center for 90 minutes. Learning about this great role model for North Carolina and the United States. Each student received one of her autobiographies. After the tour, E3 Camp went to the Black owned Chick-fil-a on Hillsborough Road. The owner is Pamela Monroe.

F7 Blackstone Ranch

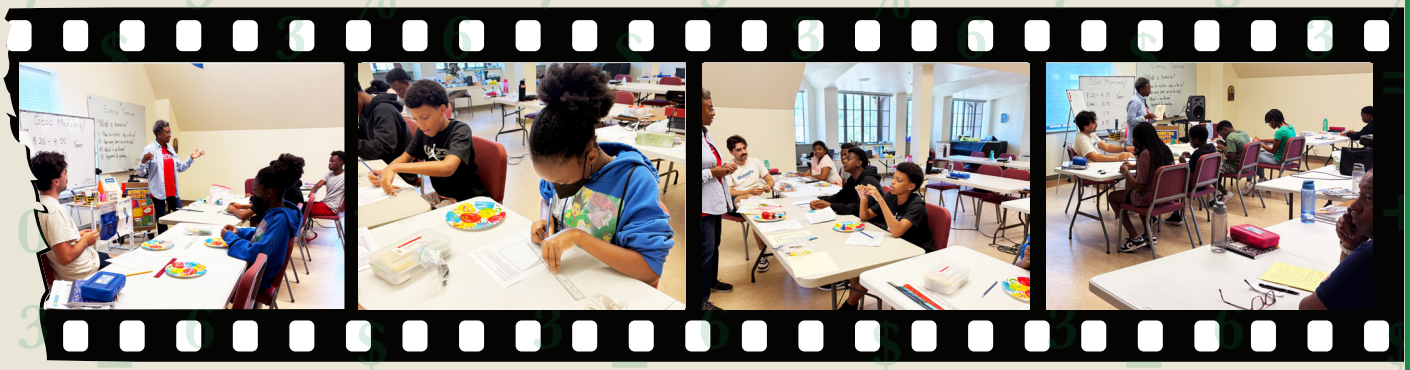
The campers toured the F7 Blackstone Ranch and were able to participate in lessons of archery, drone, fishing, Native American bracelet making and horseback riding.

Math

Binary Numbers

Dianne Martin, a retired NASA scientist, came and discussed binary numbers and scientific equations.

Geometry



Maria Droujkova and Alfredo Poteat from Natural Math led a geometry lesson and participated in an activity building different shapes.

The Last 2 days

Damon Tweety

Author and Doctor Damon Tweety came to talk to the campers about his two books and the struggles on being a black man in the majority white medical field.

Last Day Performance

On the last day of camp, the campers each had to give a presentation about the things they learned during camp. Also motivational speaker, Willie Deese came to inspire the students about setting goals and reaching them. After the performance, each camper received a backpack and a set of school supplies for the upcoming year.